Hi Joe,

Thank you for suggesting this time. It works for both myself and Chuck Tinsley here in Denver. Chuck and I can be in one location using a speaker phone. On EQT's end, do you envision the same, or will folks need to call in to a conference line?

Joe,

Chuck and I remain interested in some of these issues and would like to take you up on your offer for a quick phone call. Starting Monday June 4, Chuck and I could find times on our calendar starting at 7 am Mountain (9 am Eastern). Would you like to propose a particular date and time? I have a few 9 am Mtn (11 am Eastern) slots filled next week already, but otherwise am pretty open and so is Chuck Tinsley.

Please let me know and thanks for offering to help ensure we are understanding EQT's wells properly.

Sorry Nathan, I was only thinking an hour difference. We can go later like 10 our time - 8 your time if that works or another time that works for you.

Even if you figured it out it might be a good idea to have a call with our engineer to confirm and run down any loose ends.

Joe

Hi Joe,

It looks like neither I nor Chuck Tinsley here will be able Wed or Thu this week to do a 6:30 am call (our time in Denver). Chuck thinks he has pretty well figured out the answers to the questions I had earlier posed, so it looks like we can now pass on this issue of trying to connect with one of your driller engineers.

Thanks again for agreeing help us. We may yet need to be in touch via phone.

Hi Joe,

Are you referring to Eastern time, or Mountain (2 hrs difference)?
